
ABOUT ROWAN ATKINSON

Let's read a little bit about British Actor Rowan Atkinson

Who is Rowan Atkinson ?

Rowan Sebastian Atkinson CBE is an English actor, comedian, and writer. He is best known for his work on the sitcoms Blackadder and Mr. Bean. He attended Newcastle University and Oxford University where he earned degrees in electrical engineering. During that time, he met screenwriter Richard Curtis, with whom he wrote and performed comedy revues.

Atkinson enjoys nothing better than fast cars. He has been married to Sunetra Sastry since 1990, and they have two children, named Benjamin and Lily.

Read 5 minutes everyday to improve vocabulary and understanding.

Personal Life:

In March 2001, while Atkinson was on a holiday trip to Kenya, the pilot of his private plane fainted. Atkinson managed to maintain the plane in the air until the pilot recovered and was able to land the plane at Nairobi's Wilson Airport.

What movies did he do?

Rowan Atkinson is loved across the globe for his roles as Mr Bean, Johnny English and Edmund Blackadder.

Personal quote:

“People think because I can make them laugh on the stage, I'll be able to make them laugh in person. That isn't the case at all. I am essentially a rather quiet, dull person who just happens to be a performer”.

-Rowan Atkinson

Interesting fact about Rowan Atkison

The former Prime Minister Tony Blair went To school with him, and they were in the same class..

